ANNE R. WEBSTER,

EEOC Case No. 15DA961384

Petitioner,

FCHR Case No. 96-A100

v.

DOAH Case No. 99-5113

METROPOLITAN DADE COUNTY, CLERK, OF THE COUNTY COURT,

FCHR Order No. 06-090

Respondent.

FINAL ORDER DISMISSING PETITION FOR RELIEF FROM AN UNLAWFUL EMPLOYMENT PRACTICE

Preliminary Matters

Petitioner Anne R. Webster filed a complaint of discrimination pursuant to the Florida Civil Rights Act of 1992, Sections 760.01 - 760.11, Florida Statutes (1995), alleging that Respondent, Metropolitan Dade County, Clerk of the County Court, committed unlawful employment practices on the bases of Petitioner's race, color, sex, religion, presumed handicap, National Origin, age, marital status, and retaliation, when it suspended and terminated Petitioner.

The allegations set forth in the complaint were investigated, and, on August 2, 1999, the Executive Director issued his determination finding that there was no reasonable cause to believe that an unlawful employment practice had occurred.

Petitioner filed a Petition for Relief from an Unlawful Employment Practice, and the case was transmitted to the Division of Administrative Hearings for the conduct of a formal proceeding.

An evidentiary hearing was held on November 30 and December 1-2, 2004, February 3-4, August 24-25, and December 15, 2005, in Miami, Florida, before Administrative Law Judge Errol H. Powell.

Judge Powell issued a Recommended Order of dismissal, dated July 28, 2006.

Pursuant to notice, public deliberations were held on October 10, 2006, by means of Communications Media Technology (namely, telephone) before this panel of Commissioners. The public access point for these telephonic deliberations was the Office of the Florida Commission on Human Relations, 2009 Apalachee Parkway, Suite 100, Tallahassee, Florida, 32301. At these deliberations, the Commission panel determined the action to be taken on the Recommended Order.

Findings of Fact

We find the Administrative Law Judge's findings of fact to be supported by competent substantial evidence.

We adopt the Administrative Law Judge's findings of fact.

Conclusions of Law

We find the Administrative Law Judge's application of the law to the facts to result in a correct disposition of the matter.

The Administrative Law Judge concluded that to establish a prima facie case of discrimination on the basis of handicap / disability, Petitioner must show that she "(1) had, or was perceived to have, a 'disability'; (2) was a 'qualified' individual; and (3) was discriminated against because of her disability." Recommended Order, ¶ 56.

For purposes of identifying the appropriate test to be used for determining a prima facie case of handicap / disability discrimination, the Commission distinguishes situations where Respondent acknowledges that it took the adverse employment action complained of on the basis of Petitioner's alleged disability from situations where Respondent does not acknowledge that it took the adverse employment action complained of on the basis of Petitioner's alleged disability. See, e.g., Casanova v. Worldwide Flight Services, FCHR Order No. 05-043 (April 20, 2005). In the latter situation, the situation presented in the instant case, the Commission does not agree that the third element of the test cited by the Administrative Law Judge, the demonstration of a causal connection between the alleged discriminatory act and Petitioner's protected class, is an appropriate element of the test for a prima facie case of discrimination, concluding that this is actually what a Petitioner is attempting to show by establishing a prima facie case. See Casanova, supra, and Baxla v. Fleetwood Enterprises, Inc. d/b/a Fleetwood Homes of Florida, Inc., 20 F.A.L.R. 2583, at 2585 (FCHR 1998), citing Pugh v. Walt Disney World, 18 F.A.L.R. 1971, at 1972 (FCHR 1995), and Martinez v. Orange County Fleet Manager, 21 F.A.L.R. 163, at 164 (FCHR 1997). See, also, Curry v. United Parcel Service of America, 24 F.A.L.R. 3166, at 3167 (FCHR 2000) for application of this specifically to a handicap / disability discrimination case.

(Note that the test cited by the Administrative Law Judge is essentially the same as that set out in Brand v. Florida Power Corporation, 633 So. 2d 504 (Fla. 1st DCA 1994), at page 510. The Brand decision identifies three types of handicap discrimination cases: first, one in which the employer contends the employment decision was made for reasons unrelated to the person's handicap; second, one wherein the employer contests the plaintiff's claim that he or she is a qualified handicapped person who, with reasonable accommodation, can perform the essential functions of the job in question; and three, one in which the employer asserts it is unable to provide the accommodation necessary, because it would impose an undue hardship on its operations. See Brand, at 508, footnote 5. That particular test cited by the Administrative Law Judge was applicable in the Brand case because the Brand case fell into the second category of cases listed above. The instant case falls into the first category of cases, and, thus, the test cited by the Administrative Law Judge is inappropriate for this case. Id.)

With regard to cases like the instant case, where Respondent contends it took the adverse employment action complained of for reasons other than Petitioner's alleged handicap / disability (in this case the Administrative Law Judge found that Respondent took the actions complained of because of Petitioner's failure to complete assigned and required reconciliations, which were her responsibility, even after she was directed to do so; gross insubordination; and constant disruptive behavior at the office - see Recommended Order, ¶ 54), a Commission panel has indicated, "to establish a prima facie case of handicap discrimination the Petitioner must show: (1) she is handicapped; (2) that she performed or is able to perform her assigned duties satisfactorily; and (3) that despite her satisfactory performance, she was terminated. Swenson-Davis v. Orlando Partners, Inc., 16 F.A.L.R. 792, at 798 (FCHR 1993). If this burden is sustained, the Respondent must articulate some legitimate nondiscriminatory reason for its action. Hart v. Double Envelope Corporation, 15 F.A.L.R. 1664, at 1673 (FCHR 1992). Once this is articulated, the burden returns to the Petitioner to demonstrate the Respondent intentionally discriminated against the Petitioner. See St. Mary's Honor Center v. Hicks, 113 S. Ct. 2742 (1993)." O'Neill v. Sarasota County School Board, 18 F.A.L.R. 1129, at 1130 (FCHR 1994) as cited in Curry, supra.

We modify accordingly the Administrative Law Judge's conclusions of law regarding the appropriate test for the establishment of a prima facie case of handicap discrimination. Accord, Brown v. Western Steer / Starke Foods, Inc., FCHR Order No. 06-087 (September 11, 2006), Lenard v. Alpha "A Beginning" Inc., FCHR Order No. 06-034 (April 13, 2006), and Siales v. Orange County Convention Center, FCHR Order No. 06-035 (April 13, 2006).

In modifying these conclusions of law of the Administrative Law Judge, we conclude: (1) that the conclusions of law being modified are conclusions of law over which the Commission has substantive jurisdiction, namely conclusions of law stating what must be demonstrated to establish a prima facie case of unlawful discrimination under the Florida Civil Rights Act of 1992; (2) that the reason the modifications are being made by the Commission is that the conclusions of law as stated run contrary to previous Commission decisions on the issue; and (3) that in making these modifications the conclusions of law being substituted are as or more reasonable than the conclusions of law which have been rejected. See, Section 120.57(1)(l), Florida Statutes (2005).

The error in the test used by the Administrative Law Judge to determine the existence of a prima facie case is harmless since in both that test and the appropriate test Petitioner must establish that she is disabled / handicapped within the meaning of the statute, and the Administrative Law Judge concluded that Petitioner failed to establish this (See Recommended Order, ¶ 58).

With the indicated modification, we adopt the Administrative Law Judge's conclusions of law.

Exceptions

The Recommended Order in this matter is 33 pages long, including the extensive preliminary matters section and the page containing the addresses of people to whom the Recommended Order was mailed. Petitioner filed exceptions to the 33-page Recommended Order in multiple documents totaling nearly 280 pages.

A review of these pages suggest that Petitioner's exceptions take issue with the facts found, facts not found, and inferences drawn from the evidence presented. Many of the pages contain merely argument with no reference to the record or the Recommended Order.

The Commission has stated, "It is well settled that it is the Administrative Law Judge's function 'to consider all of the evidence presented and reach ultimate conclusions of fact based on competent substantial evidence by resolving conflicts, judging the credibility of witnesses and drawing permissible inferences therefrom. If the evidence presented supports two inconsistent findings, it is the Administrative Law Judge's role to decide between them.' Beckton v. Department of Children and Family Services, 21 F.A.L.R. 1735, at 1736 (FCHR 1998), citing Maggio v. Martin Marietta Aerospace, 9 F.A.L.R. 2168, at 2171 (FCHR 1986)." Barr v. Columbia Ocala Regional Medical Center, 22 F.A.L.R. 1729, at 1730 (FCHR 1999).

Further, with the correction to the conclusions of law set out above, we have adopted the Administrative Law Judge's findings of fact and conclusions of law.

Consequently, Petitioner's exceptions are rejected.

Dismissal

The Petition for Relief and Complaint of Discrimination are DISMISSED with prejudice.

The parties have the right to seek judicial review of this Order. The Commission and the appropriate District Court of Appeal must receive notice of appeal within 30 days of the date this Order is filed with the Clerk of the Commission. Explanation of the right to appeal is found in Section 120.68, Florida Statutes, and in the Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure 9.110.
