ADMINISTRATIVE HEARINGS

FINAL ORDER

This matter was considered by the Division of Community Development within the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity (“Department”) following the receipt of a recommended order (“Recommended Order”) issued by an Administrative Law Judge (“ALJ”) assigned to the matter by the Division of Administrative Hearings (“DOAH”).

Background

This is a proceeding to determine whether Comprehensive Plan Amendment 2018-031 (“Plan Amendment”)¹ to the Palm Beach County Comprehensive Plan (“Plan”) is in compliance, as defined in section 163.3184(1)(b), Florida Statutes (2018).² The Plan Amendment, adopted on October 31, 2018, amends the Plan by changing the future land use element (“FLUE”) designation applicable to residential future land use designations.

¹ Palm Beach County DEO Amendment No. 18-03ESR.

² References to the Florida Statutes are to the 2018 version, which was in effect on the date the Plan Amendment was adopted.

On November 29, 2018, Palm Beach Farms Rural Preservation Committee, LLC (“Petitioner”), filed a petition for an administrative hearing, challenging whether the Plan Amendment is in compliance, as defined in section 163.3184(1)(b), Florida Statutes. Petitioner alleges that the Plan Amendment renders the Plan internally inconsistent, in violation of section 163.3177(2), Florida Statutes, and fails to establish meaningful and predictable standards for the use and development of land, and provide meaningful guidelines for the content of more detailed land development and use regulations, as required by section 163.3177(1), Florida Statutes.

The final hearing was held on November 18, 2019, as scheduled. The ALJ issued the Recommended Order on January 8, 2020, recommending the Department issue a final order determining the Plan Amendment to be found in compliance. A copy of the Recommended Order is attached hereto as Exhibit “A.” No exceptions to the Recommended Order were filed with the Department.

Role of the Department

Petitioner’s challenge was filed pursuant to sections 120.569, 120.57(1), and 163.3184(5), Florida Statutes. The ALJ held a hearing and issued the Recommended Order, finding the Plan Amendment in compliance, and submitted the Recommended Order to the Department. The Department may determine that the Plan Amendment is in compliance and enter a final order to that effect, or determine that the Plan Amendment is not in compliance, and refer the Recommended Order and the Department’s determination to the Administration Commission for final agency action. § 163.3184(5)(e), Fla. Stat.

The Department has received a record consisting of copies of the parties’ pleadings, the documentary evidence introduced at the final hearing, and a two-volume transcript of the proceedings of the final hearing. The Department has reviewed the record and issues this Final Order in accordance with sections 120.57(1)(k)-(l) and 163.3184(5)(e), Florida Statutes.

If the Department rejects or modifies a conclusion of law or interpretation of an administrative rule, then the Department must state with particularity its reasons for such rejection or modification. § 120.57(1)(l), Fla. Stat. If the Department rejects or modifies a finding of fact, then the Department must state with particularity that the finding was not based upon competent substantial evidence or that the proceedings on which the finding was based did not comply with essential requirements of law. Id.

Standard of Review

Findings of Fact

Section 120.57(1)(l), Florida Statutes, prescribes that in its issuance of a final order, the Department may not reject or modify the findings of fact of the ALJ “unless the agency first determines from a review of the entire record, and states with particularity in the order, that the findings of fact were not based upon competent substantial evidence or that the proceedings on which the findings were based did not comply with essential requirements of law.” Evidence is competent if it is admissible under the pertinent legal rules of evidence. Scholastic Book Fairs, Inc. v. Unemplmt. App. Comm'n, 671 So. 2d 287, 290 n.3 (Fla. 5th DCA 1996). Evidence is substantial if there is “some (more than a mere iota or scintilla) real, material, pertinent, and relevant evidence (as distinguished from ethereal, metaphysical, speculative or merely theoretical evidence or hypothetical possibilities) having definite probative value (that is, ‘tending to prove’) as to each essential element” of the claim. Id. The Department is “not authorized to weigh the evidence presented, judge credibility of witnesses, or otherwise interpret the evidence to fit its desired ultimate conclusion.” Heifetz v. Dep't of Bus. Reg., 475 So. 2d 1277, 1281 (Fla. 1st DCA 1985). “If the ALJ's findings of fact are supported by competent, substantial evidence, the agency cannot reject them even to make alternate findings that are also supported by competent, substantial evidence.” Lantz v. Smith, 106 So. 3d 518, 521 (Fla. 1st DCA 2013). The Department may reject findings of fact if the proceedings on which the findings were based did not comply with the essential requirements of law. See § 120.57(1)(l), Fla. Stat., and Dept. of Corrections v. Bradley, 510 So. 2d 1122, 1123 (Fla. 1st DCA 1987). In this context, Florida’s First District Court of Appeal has characterized a failure “to comply with the essential requirements of the law” as “a procedural irregularity.” Beckett v. Dep’t of Fin. Servs., 982 So. 2d 94, 102 (Fla. 1st DCA 2008) (ruling that the agency erred by concluding that the ALJ had failed to comply with the essential requirements of the law “[b]ecause there has been no suggestion of a procedural irregularity”).

Conclusions of Law

Section 120.57(1)(l), Florida Statutes, authorizes the Department to reject or modify a conclusion of law over which the agency has substantive jurisdiction. § 120.57(1)(l), Fla. Stat.; Barfield v. Dep't of Health, 805 So. 2d 1008, 1010 (Fla. 1st DCA 2001). If the Department rejects or modifies any of the ALJ’s conclusions of law, then the Department must state with particularity its reasons for rejecting or modifying the conclusion, and must make a finding that its substituted conclusion of law is as or more reasonable than that which was rejected or modified. § 120.57(1)(l), Fla. Stat. The Department is not permitted to reject or modify a finding that is substantially one of fact simply by treating the finding as a legal conclusion. See Abrams v. Seminole Cnty. Sch. Bd., 73 So. 3d 285, 294 (Fla. 5th DCA 2011). Additionally, a rejection or modification of a conclusion of law may not form a basis for rejection or modification of a finding of fact. § 120.57(1)(l), Fla. Stat.

Adoption of the Recommended Order

The Department has reviewed the Recommended Order and concludes that all findings of fact therein were based upon competent substantial evidence in the record. The Department finds that the proceedings on which the findings of fact were based complied with the essential requirements of law.

The Department has reviewed the ALJ's conclusions of law and finds that all conclusions of law within the Departments substantive jurisdiction are reasonable. The Department does not have any substitute conclusions of law that would be as or more reasonable than the ALJ's conclusions of law.

ORDER

Based on the foregoing, the Department determines that Palm Beach County Comprehensive Plan Amendment 2018-031, approved by Palm Beach County on October 31, 2018, is in compliance, as defined in section 163.3184(1)(b), Florida Statutes. The Department adopts and incorporates by reference the Recommended Order in its entirety into this Final Order.

Dated this 20 day of March, 2020.

Mario Rubio, Director
Division of Community Development
Florida Department of Economic Opportunity
